Over the last two academic years, the costs associated with mitigating the current COVID-19 pandemic have proven significant. Therefore, CMS may require a COVID-19 fee assigned to every child enrolled for the 2021-2022 academic year, regardless of whether or not they are taking part in distance learning or in-person learning. This fee will not exceed $1,500 per child and will cover the additional costs associated with continued operations of CMS if the pandemic is expected to extend into the 2021-2022 academic year. A decision about implementation and amount of the fee will be based on future scenario planning and adaptation of the educational program and national and local trends pertaining to the mitigation of the current COVID-19 pandemic. This fee will apply to all children enrolled at CMS, regardless of program level or contracted tuition amount. A decision about the fee will be communicated by the last day of May 2021, prior to the June 1, 2021 contract withdrawal deadline.
